Surrey Roads Receive Attention

Surrey road surfacing program is now well under way. Work has commenced on the McLeellan Road and Johnson Road, with the White Rock-Crescent Marine Drive to follow, possibly this week or first of next week.

A section of Buena Vista Avenue will also be oiled. This piece of road work will be financed through the co-operation of property owners and the municipality on a local improvement scheme.

Water Company Deepening Well

The Water Works Company have their well drilling machine in operation, deepening one of the wells at the pump house. The well is down 125 feet and officials state that they expect to go much deeper before reaching a heavier flow.

Mrs. M. I. Angus, of Vancouver, spent nearly a week in White Rock renewing acquaintances. Mrs. Angus spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moffat, and the Dominion Day holiday with Mrs. W. B. Anderson, Juan View.

Ratepayers Plan Turned Down By Council

Councillor T. Blinnie proposed at Surrey council meeting that the council take steps to have the fiscal year end on October 31. The suggestion arose from a resolution of White Rock Ratepayers' Association requesting that a financial statement be issued before the annual election. With the election in December, and the fiscal year ending on December 31, this is impossible. Formerly the election was held annually in January. Reeve J. T. Brown agreed with the contention that there should be a financial statement available before the election, but as matters now stand he could not see what could be done about it. To end the fiscal year on October 31 is impracticable from an administrative point of view. The council rejected Councillor Blinnie's plan.

Bulldozer at Work

The bulldozer has been working on Kent Road finishing the grading and levelling between Pacific and Columbia Avenues.

Dominion Day visitors had an unusual thrill watching a school of black fish off the Pier.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Winch of Vancouver and daughter Joy, have returned home after spending a month's vacation at the E. E. Winch home on Victoria Avenue.

The regular monthly meeting of the White Rock branch of the Canadian Red Cross will meet in the White Rock Hotel on Tuesday, July 8, at 8 p.m.

Captain E. S. Brand, R.N.
Director of Naval Intelligence, Department of Naval Affairs.

Seabrook—Sharp

A quiet wedding took place Friday, June 27, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Coldebank when Margaret Priscilla, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Sharp, became the bride of Frederick, third son of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Seabrook of North Bend, Wash. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Frank before a flower-banked fireplace.

The bride was wearing a lilac and deep violet redingote with matching violet hat and beige accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds and sweet peas.

The matron of honor was Mrs. H. D. Abbott, who chose an apple blossom green jacket dress with beige accessories, with a corsage of pink carnations. Mr. James Sharp, brother of the bride, was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Sharp received, the latter wearing a navy sheer redingote and navy hat.

Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. W. L. Calderbank and Mrs. R. L. Merklin.

For her honeymoon to Vancouver Island the bride donned a beige top coat over her wedding ensemble.

Desk To Be Raffled At V.O.N. Party

One of the main attractions at this year's V.O.N. garden party at Ocean Park will be the drawing for the hand-made secretary and bench displayed in David Hughes' office. ## The Pursuit Of Happiness

Happiness is something we are all looking for; to some it means enjoying the pleasures of life; to others it is in their work. Happiness is an elusive thing and effervescent at times.

During week-end holidays and summer months many from the cities and surrounding districts come to White Rock to enjoy the balmy air, the sea and the swimming. To bask in the sun or even to watch the crowds as they go about in their various forms of sport or amusement. To rest from the grind of every day toil, so as to go back to it with renewed energy.

White Rock is a pleasant place to be in and has many attractions, but advantage should be taken of them to make into a more permanent nature to attract a more permanent class of citizens; that business may be a steady all the year round affair, instead of just the summer season. There are many things that could be done that would improve this town to make it appeal to those who are looking for a place to make a home. These things cannot be done all at once, but if a start can be made, the others will follow and gradually develop into a more attractive White Rock.

But happiness is not a thing of the moment, it lies deeper, it helps no doubt. It is within, in the knowledge of work well done, that brings lasting happiness.

They Save A Life Every Four Hours

Lifeboat heroes of Britain's
 Salt Water Girdle

By

Noel Barber

Editor of the Overseas Daily Mail.

Every four hours in Britain, all through the day and night, a life is saved by men with rough faces, old blue jerseys and a lot of guts. They are the men of the Lifeboat Service.

Round the salt water girdle of Britain they wait, ready to rescue the merchant seaman of this country or her Allies when danger strikes from the grey hull of a U boat or the black shadow of a Nazi war plane. On the average, they are saving six lives a day.

In the first eighteen months of the war the men of the Lifeboat Service—the volunteers of the Lifeboat Service—saved 3,500 lives; more in that vital, vivid year and a half than in the last ten years of peace.

On one single, bleak, stormy day, just before last Christmas, they saved 71 lives in 24 hours. From the beaches of the grey East Coast from the sheltered coves that face Atlantic breakers on the west, the lifeboats of Britain slid down the runways. On that day alone they made 19 launches.

What did that cost the Service? It is hard to say. Britain has 157 lifeboats, of which 146 are motor boats, doted around her coasts. Each one is manned by volunteers, 2,000 of them in all—for the only members of the Service who get a fixed wage are the motor mechanics who are always on duty at the station. They are paid three to four pounds a week. Such full time men are necessary to keep the engines in order.

Coxswains of each boat, gallant, grizzled men whose faces are wrinkled like parchment get an honorarium of about fifteen pounds a year. This is because they have a good many odd jobs to do, even when there are no services. Every lifeboatman gets compensation if he

OF SERVICE

Stationed at strategic points throughout the Fraser Valley's farming area, these men, B.C. Electric agricultural representatives, are posted to render service to residents of their respective districts.

You should know your B.C. Electric farm representative. Make a point of meeting him. Each year the services rendered the farmer by electricity are becoming more and more apparent, reducing labor and increasing efficiency and profit.

Your B.C. Electric representative can help you in these matters. He can show you where and how electricity can best serve you. He can show you a means to easy financing—and he understands your problems. An interview with him incurs no obligation, and it should benefit you in a very definite and direct way.

The co-operation of relatives and friends of men or women on active service will be appreciated.

is injured. But though the men are volunteers—and remember, nobody can order them to go to the rescue of broken, battered ships—they get paid after each service they make. The scale of payments is an elastic one, based on a minimum which is nearly always increased.

The men of the Lifesboat Service have not gone unscathed. Lives have been lost, for the Nazis make no distinction between any of the men who serve the sea. They, too, face constant dangers of attack by mine, by torpedo, by machine gun.

At night the lifboatmen must leave their shores without a light to guide them past their hosts. They must launch the boat in the dark. There are no floodlights to help them, and once at sea, they are almost always under fire, as circling warplanes or U-boats try to finish off their work.

The annual Garden Party of the Women's Association of the White Rock United church will be held on the church grounds on Thursday July 24th in the afternoon.

Members of the Canadian Legion, Fraser Valley zone, will meet in the Pier rooms on Friday, July 4, at 8:15 p.m.

More Pensioners Help War Cause

Eleven more pensioners of the Great War have offered to contribute whole or part of their pensions to help in the fight against Nazi Germany. The 47th long list of contributors of freewill offerings covers gifts of wide and varied range. Gifts for the Red Cross, for Hurricane funds and War Effort generally cover twelve typewritten pages. Children in a Winnipeg school put their pennies and nickels in a bank on the teachers desk. Result: $5.12 cents for the War Fund.

The Italian Principe di Piemonte of Fort William sends $50. The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, Midland, Ontario, $10,000. Citizens of Drummondville, Quebec give $5,230 for an ambulance for overseas; the Canadian Order of Foresters, Montreal, $5,000. The Ukrainian Women's Association of Canada, Winnipeg, give $1,867.

Beginning Sunday until the end of August the Gospel Mission services will be held in the White Rock Theatre (west of town).

Several good preachers and singers will assist Evangelist Peter Dewar.

On Sunday, July 6, White Rock scouts are sponsoring the first proper trail to be held in British Columbia. The trail will be held on the Pier from 2 to 5 p.m. J. T. Brown will officiate at the opening. Everyone in White Rock is asked to place a copper on the trail.

Help the scouts. They help you. It will be your way of showing you are a scout supporter.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

MAKE THEM "DIFFERENT"

Shots such as this—with an individual, "different" touch—lend life to your album. Try some, as a change from ordinary, routine poses.

EVERYBODY has his preferences—in pictures, in reading matter, in victuals, and other things. Abraham Lincoln summed it up neatly when he said, "You will like this story, if this is the kind of story you like."

However, despite differences of taste, most people agree on one point. They feel that something individual—something a little bit out of the ordinary—is better. It is the "different" treatment—the "individual touch"—that counts. That's especially true in snapshots. A clever idea—a different pose—a little individuality in the lighting or arrangement—these give you pictures that make people sit up and take notice. And they're more interesting to you, too—they give you more satisfaction.

Consider one concrete case—snapshots of children. You know that most of them are "too much alike." As a rule, they tell no story —the child simply stands or sits and looks at the camera. Yet every child has a personality of its own. He—or she—has personal mannerisms, and personal activities. These are picture material, and will lend that necessary touch of truth and individuality to your pictures.

Trouble? None at all. Shots of Junior curled up on the couch in some absurd pose while he reads the Sunday comics—shots of your little girl hectoring her doll on proper behavior—shots of them both trying to teach the puppy to do tricks—these are just as easy to get as the old, routine shots. Easier, sometimes—because children are natural actors, and take readily to an idea if it seems like play.

And this is just one field. The same rule applies to all other snapshots. Seek the individual touch—the "different" flavor—and you'll build an album that is much more interesting.

Alaska Cruise Delightful Holiday

The "Trail of '98" that once taxed the energies of Alaska-bound prospectors, today has an alternative and more attractive route served not by dog-sled, but by luxury steamships of the Canadian Pacific coast fleet, and following the sheltered "Inside Passage" between Vancouver and Skagway. These trim liners, whose sister ships by the "Triangle Route" between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, and cruise the west coast of Vancouver Island, bring the "Midnight Sun" within three days of Vancouver.

Commencing May 2 and effective till Sept. 28, three smart "Princess" liners will conduct a series of 9-day cruises from Vancouver to Skagway, with a 24-hour stop-over at the Alaskan port. The B.C. coast service will also operate three 11-day cruises to Alaska, allowing for side trips by rail and lake from Skagway to Lake Bennett, Whitehorse and West Taku Arm. The cruise liner "Princess Charlotte" will feature in these tours.

From comfy deck chairs, today's northbound nomad is treated to a moving panorama of majestic glaciers, towering peaks, and rocky bound fjords. Adventure waits at every port of call. Alert Bay, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Wrangell and Juneau follow in colorful succession, each with its weird array of totem poles and other symbols of Indian life. Picture-post "Sunset Cruises" along the west coast of Vancouver Island are also scheduled for the current season between Victoria and Port Alice. These popular cruises offer the passenger eight days of splendid coastal scenery with regular stop-overs at quaint Indian fishing villages. Two Canadian Pacific liners will be in "Sunset Cruise" service from June 1 to September 12.

Life on a Canadian Pacific coast vessel is fashioned after that of an ocean liner. Deck lounge, shipboard, morning bouillon, afternoon tea, horse racing, dances, moonlight promenade on deck, and midnight snacks all contribute to the joys of ship-board life on a Canadian Pacific "Princess" liner.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD BIRTHDAY PICTURES

Easy to take—just a short time exposure with the camera on a firm support—this shot is part of a charming birthday series. Keep your camera busy on birthdays! They're fine for pictures.

SOONER or later, every member of a family has a birthday—and here it is one occasion when you can really turn your camera loose for a first-rate story-telling series of pictures.

Of course, the center of a child's birthday is the cake with candles.
That's why we picked it for our picture here. But there's a lot more to a birthday—anybody's birthday.
The preparations—the presentation of the party, if there is one—all these make good snapshot material. If it's a child's occasion, with your small son or daughter playing the leading role, you can start taking pictures several days in advance —pictures emphasizing the good behavior that always precedes the big day.

The idea, in making a series of this sort, is to tell a complete story.
The more details you can show, the better your story—and it's more satisfying when you look back through your album.
Here's what I mean by "details".
Suppose it's Dad's birthday, and you're giving him a new pipe. Then get one picture as he receives the package; another as he begins to unwrap it; a shot of his expression when he sees the gift; another as he loads up for the first time; and a final shot as he contentedly puffs away. This is clearly much better —and far more interesting—than just one shot, or several all alike.
It's quite as simple to take a series as a few "single" shots. Just set up your two photo lights—and as long as your subject stays in the same spot, the exposure won't change. So, all you need do is watch for changes in pose and expression. The photo bulbs and high speed film make snapshots easy.
A shot of the cake, lighted only by the candles, will call for a short time exposure—say two to three seconds—with the camera placed on a firm, solid support.
Maybe there isn't a birthday at your house this week, or this month. But tuck this away—and when the day comes, remember your camera, and get a good birthday story. It's perfect material for your "family history" album.
